

Ref: CER/JOS/YEAR 7/COLLAPSED DAY

6 March 2018

Dear Parent/Carer

Re: Year 7 Collapsed Day

Hampton College will be having the second collapsed day of the academic year on Thursday 15 March 2018.

All Year 7 students will be taking part in a variety of Science activities, on the theme of Harry Potter. This ties in with British Science Week, which runs from 9 to 18 March 2018. Students will be covering material to aid their knowledge and understanding of science, with experiments and activities which are not usually covered as part of the Year 7 curriculum. This will enable them to sharpen their experimental skills and apply their knowledge to new areas.

Students with long hair should ensure that they bring a hair bobble to use during their class practical.

If you are interested in British Science week, or wish to attend events being run as part of the Cambridge Science Festival (recommended), I have indicated where information can be found below:

Yours sincerely
